Letter from the Chief

The City of Manassas Police Department continues to focus its efforts on the ever changing and increasingly demanding task of ensuring that our community is safe, engaged and committed to maintaining the high quality of life we have become known for. Community Policing continues to be the basic framework for this objective and we have achieved many accomplishments by following this philosophy. This policing method allows our officers to work with our Crime Analyst to predict and respond to areas of concern. Our proactive approach has prevented crime and allowed our staff to spend more time interacting with the community.

As you will see within this report, Calls for service have increased by 10% but officer initiated calls have decreased by 13 %. This data shows that our communities rely heavily on us to assist them with resolving problems and we need to focus on hiring and retaining quality personnel so we can be proactive- responding and solving incidents before our community needs to contact us. The Part 1 Offenses (Serious and Violent Crime) decreased by 2 %; however Overall Crime (Part 1 and all other offenses) increased by 6%. This increase is mainly due to two categories- Domestic Violence incidents and All Other Offenses. The Domestic Violence increase of 22 % is in the non-violent category, while violent with arrest is down 15%.The other category of “all other offenses” involve quality of life issues such as simple assaults, drug/alcohol related calls, disorderly persons, trespassing, etc.

In 2015, as with previous years, we continued with the theme of hiring the most officers in our history. We hired 18 new employees to fill vacancies that carried over from 2014, along with retirements and resignations. In addition to these vacancies, 6 employees sustained injuries and/or were placed on FMLA that limited their availability. The Crime Prevention Specialist, a position that figures prominently in our Community Policing efforts, has worked tirelessly with our residents and Community HOAs to expand or implement new programs that benefit our community as whole, while at the same time trying to maintain a media presence as the PIO and social media coordinator.

We continue to uphold our professional reputation through the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies as a “Gold Standard with Excellence Agency”, achieved during our 2013 on-site assessment. Our next on-site is scheduled for August 2016 when we will once again seek re-accreditation by CALEA. In addition to re-accreditation, our top priorities in 2016 will be facilities planning, exploring a Body Worn Camera program, and continue building relationships within the communities and Crime Prevention.

As the Chief of Police, I want to commend the professionalism, dedication and commitment of all of the men and women of this Department. I also want to acknowledge the exceptional working relationship we have with our regional partners in law enforcement and the strong partnership we have fostered with the City Council and other City staff. I can assure you we value these relationships and will continue to work to maintain them as well as the trust of our citizens as we move forward to fulfill the shared vision we all have for the City of Manassas.

Mission Statement: The department commits its resources, in partnership with the community to promote public safety and maintain public order by eliminating crime and the fear of crime, to practice the values of integrity, respect, public service and professional standing, and to maintain a proactive relationship with the community and a positive working environment for department members.

Police Department General Information

CITY OF MANASSAS POLICE DEPARTMENT

FY 2015 ADOPTED

Attachment "A" General Order 1-5

In recent years, the Manassas City Police Department hired and trained the most new patrol officers in its history. The past year remained a challenging year for staffing as a result of resignations and officers injured both on duty and off. Eighteen employees were hired in 2015, sixteen employees resigned or retired, and six people sustained injuries that limited their work capacity.

In Recognition

Employee of the Year, Master Detective C. van Noppen

The Employee of the Year award goes to a person who made a significant difference—sometimes in an instant, sometimes over the course of months working a case, and sometimes it's every single day. The nature of police work calls for commendable, heroic actions of individuals, and no less critical to the mission of any law enforcement agency are the diligent contributions of its members on a daily basis.

Detective Cindy van Noppen is selected for the 2015 Employee of the Year award because of her contributions to our department and community, and to humanity—to the countless victims she's interviewed and consoled, the volunteer hours she has contributed to nonprofit organizations and fundraisers, the diligence and scrutiny she applies to cold case, fraud, and identity theft investigations, her willingness to help other detectives on their cases and work beyond her scheduled shift, and for being the first to volunteer to help—whatever that may entail.

Over the course of her 38 years as a police officer and detective at the Manassas City Police Department, Cindy has been commended by victims and other community members for the way she treated them, by prosecutors in crediting her persistence as a detective for successful prosecutions, and by countless nonprofit organizations for her volunteer work. She is a member of the Crisis Negotiations Team, a board member of the Manassas City Police Charitable Foundation, and contributes to the Police Association and memorial services for Sergeant John Conner each year. If a helping hand is needed, Cindy is often the first to volunteer. She is committed to a lifetime of learning as well, achieving her master's degree in forensic science from George Mason University in December 2015.

Detective Cindy van Noppen's contributions to our work, to our police department and to our lives over the course of nearly 40 years are truly remarkable. Her selfless service does not go unnoticed by all of the lives she's touched, from fellow coworkers and her professional network to the unnamed recipients of her volunteer work. For these reasons, we are proud to award Cindy van Noppen 2015 Employee of the Year.

Crime and Incident Analysis: 2015 Crime Rate

The crime index is a ratio of the number of reported Part 1 offenses compared to the estimated population in a jurisdiction for the year. It makes it possible to compare crime across jurisdictions.

Part 1 offense categories that are used to calculate the crime rate are person crimes (homicide, rape, robbery, aggravated assault) and property crimes (burglary, larceny, and motor vehicle theft).

The crime rate in Manassas City for 2015 was 21 crimes per 1,000 persons, or 2 person crimes per 1,000 persons and 19 property crimes per 1,000 persons. These rates are slightly lower than national crime rates reported by the FBI for 2014 (3.7 person crimes and 26 property crimes per 1,000 persons) and higher than the rate reported in the neighboring Prince William County in 2014 (14.5 crimes per 1,000). Consistent with regional and national crime trends, the majority of serious crimes reported in Manassas City are property crimes (90%), specifically larceny and 10% are committed against persons.

Although the population in Manassas has been steadily increasing, the crime index has been at its lowest in recent years compared to the last fifteen years. Between 2000-2009, the crime rate was between 33-41 crimes per 1,000 persons.

Crime and Incident Analysis

This table shows every crime or concern for which the police took a report in 2015. The total number of serious and violent crime reports (part 1 offenses) decreased by 2% as a result of decreases in robberies, aggravated assaults, and burglaries.

The number of overall incidents reported to the police in 2015 increased 6% when compared to the number of reports in 2014, but consistent with 2013.

The reports in the 'other' category are for found property, to report suspicious activity, for assaults, vandalisms, fraud, vehicle hit-and-runs, possession of drugs, and runaway juveniles.

Select Quality of Life Offenses

Domestic Violence (violent and verbal)

In 2015, 15% of all reports of crime and disorder were for domestic disputes, both violent and verbal in nature. There were 22% more reports taken in 2015 compared to 2014 and 52% resulted in an arrest.

Domestic disputes are a common problem in which officers are asked to intervene and physical assaults are one of the most common reasons adults and juveniles are arrested (See page 22).

Law Enforcement Response to Mental Health Crises

70% of youth in state and local juvenile justice systems have a mental illness and at least a quarter of adult inmates in state institutions have a recent history of a mental health condition.

Source: <http://www.nami.org/Learn-More/Mental-Health-By-the-Numbers>

In 2015, officers responded to 381 calls for service directly related to mental health concerns—about one per day.

As part of the Greater Prince William movement to improve services for this population (mental illness, substance abuse, intellectual disability), Manassas City Police employees are participating in extensive scenario-based crisis intervention training. To date, eighteen officers and three dispatchers have received training specific to their roles as first responders.

In 2015:

of reports where “mental” was used in the reporting officer’s narrative: 313

Suicide or suicidal: 164

Overdose: 39

Depression: 75

Disorder: 224

Abatement Program

The Abatement Program is a collaborative effort to improve unsafe and nuisance properties in the City of Manassas. Cases are addressed by a team of City officials to include Fire Marshals, Public Works, Zoning, Property Code Maintenance Enforcement, and the Police Department.

In 2015, 10 new cases were identified through citizen complaints, excessive police calls for service, criminal activity, or through service providers. Five were business locations and five were residential properties.

Once property owners are notified of the concerns, they are encouraged to meet with City officials to discuss a plan for improvement. In all ten cases, properties reached compliance with reductions in complaints and calls for service.

In 2014, 29 residential properties and 6 businesses were identified. All property owners complied with action plans to reduce nuisances and criminal behavior.

Parking Violations

Four parking enforcement officers augment the Patrol Services Division in enforcing City parking codes.

Officers issued nearly 14% more parking citations this year than last year (+661).

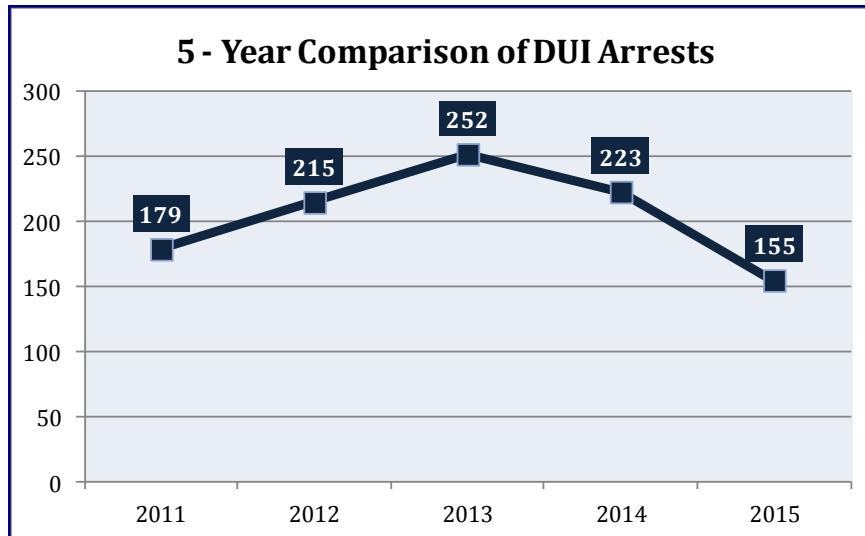

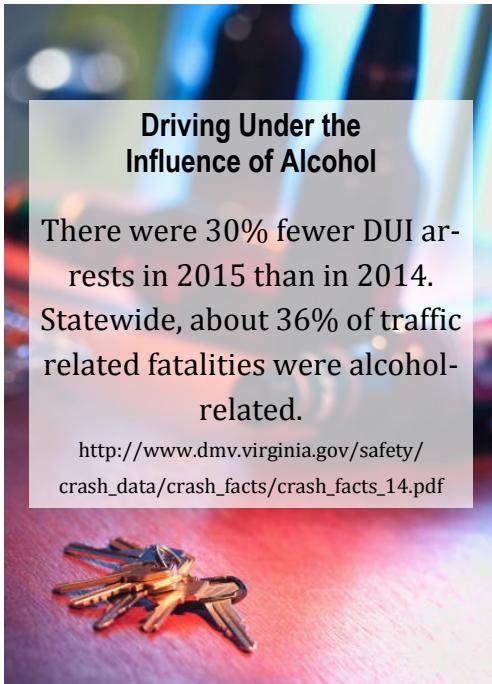

Parking Violations	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	Amt of Change 14-15	Rate of Change 14-15
No Parking	1,111	1,201	987	1,066	2,236	1,170	110%

PARKING DISTRICTS- In December 2014, the City of Manassas began implementing restricted parking zones on City streets. In segments where 60% of the residents approve, parking is regulated by permits purchased from the City and enforced by Manassas City Police Department staff. Officers issue warnings for thirty days, then begin issuing tickets for violators. Three streets were the first to enter the program in 2014.

In 2015, eleven new parking districts were designated at the request of residents and over 1,000 more parking tickets were issued for No Parking violations than in the previous 4 years.

Select Quality of Life Offenses

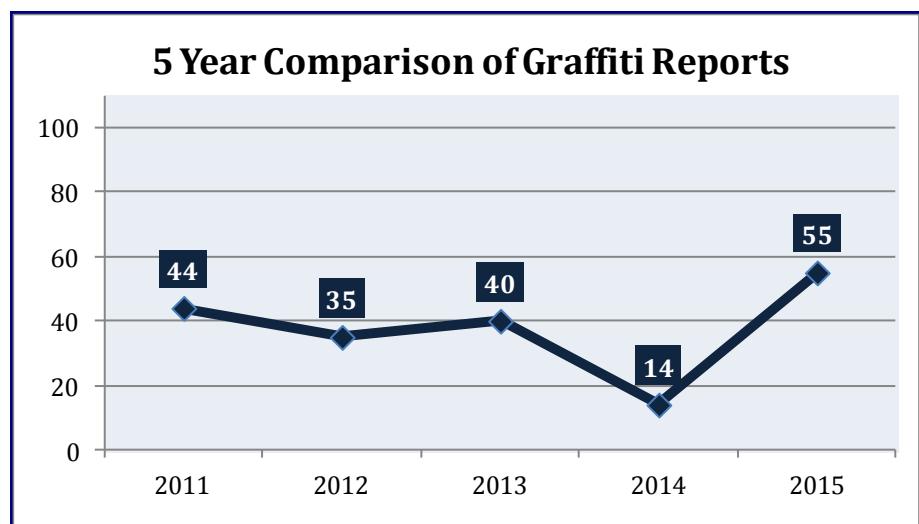

Graffiti

There are two main types of graffiti artists, taggers who consider their graffiti artwork and gang members who use graffiti to mark their territory.

In Manassas, the number of graffiti reports peaked this year after a sharp decline in 2014. In 2015, there were 55 reports of graffiti, 14 of which were associated with suspected gang activity.

Public Safety Communications Center

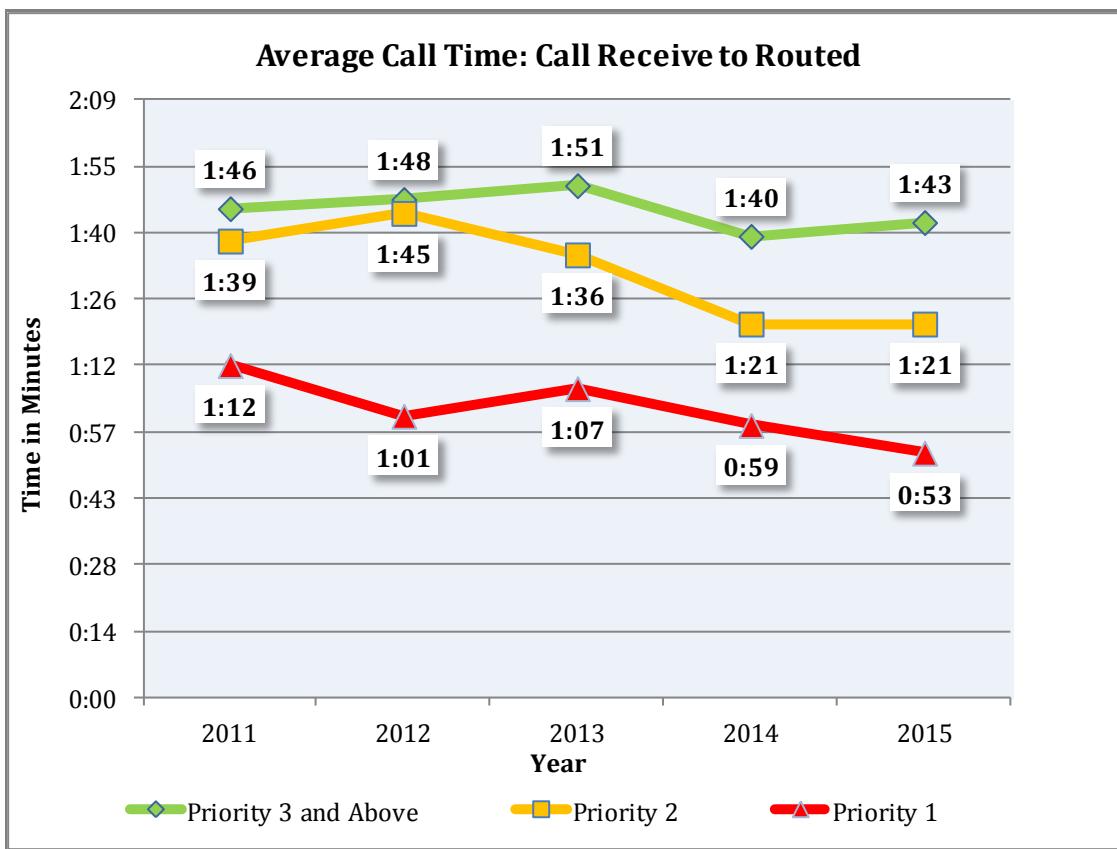

The goal of the Communications Center is to provide fast, efficient communication to members in the field.

The Public Safety Communications Center is staffed around the clock by Communications Specialists (PSCS) who answer both emergency and non-emergency calls for service. When these calls result in the need for police services, PSCS's create a call and dispatch police officers to the appropriate location. PSCS's must determine the nature, urgency and need for each call for service so officers on the street can receive timely and critical information.

Calls are prioritized by urgency, as follows:
Priority 1: In Progress – Emergency Response
Priority 2: Just Occurred – Heightened Response
Priority 3: Past Occurrence – Routine Response

Dispatcher Reaction Time

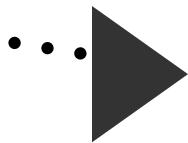

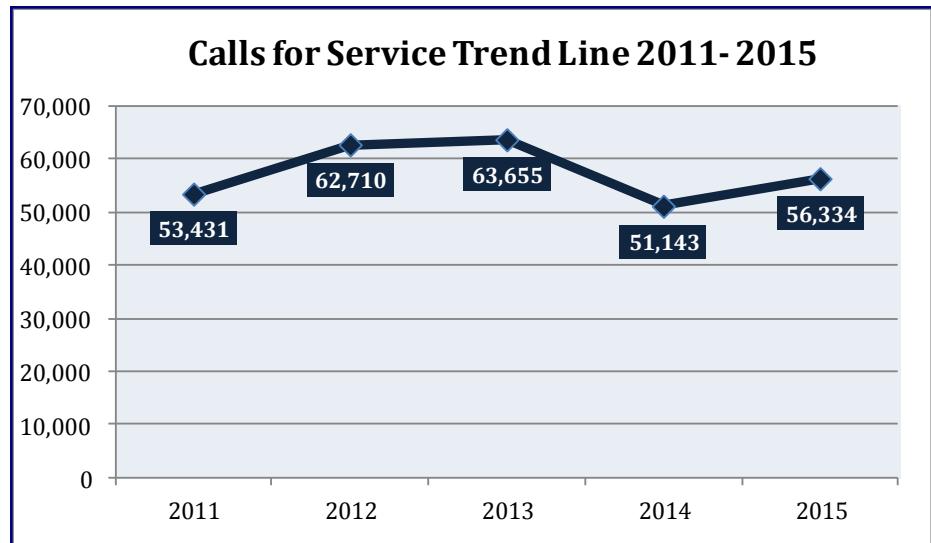

The times presented here are the average times it takes the dispatcher to collect basic information from the caller and then route an officer to the location where police are requested.

Calls For Service

The total number of calls for service increased 10% in 2015, from 51,143 to 56,334. There were 686 more citizen calls for assistance in 2015 than in 2014, a 4% increase. Officer-initiated calls for service increased 13% (up from 34,184 calls in 2014 to 38,689 calls in 2015).

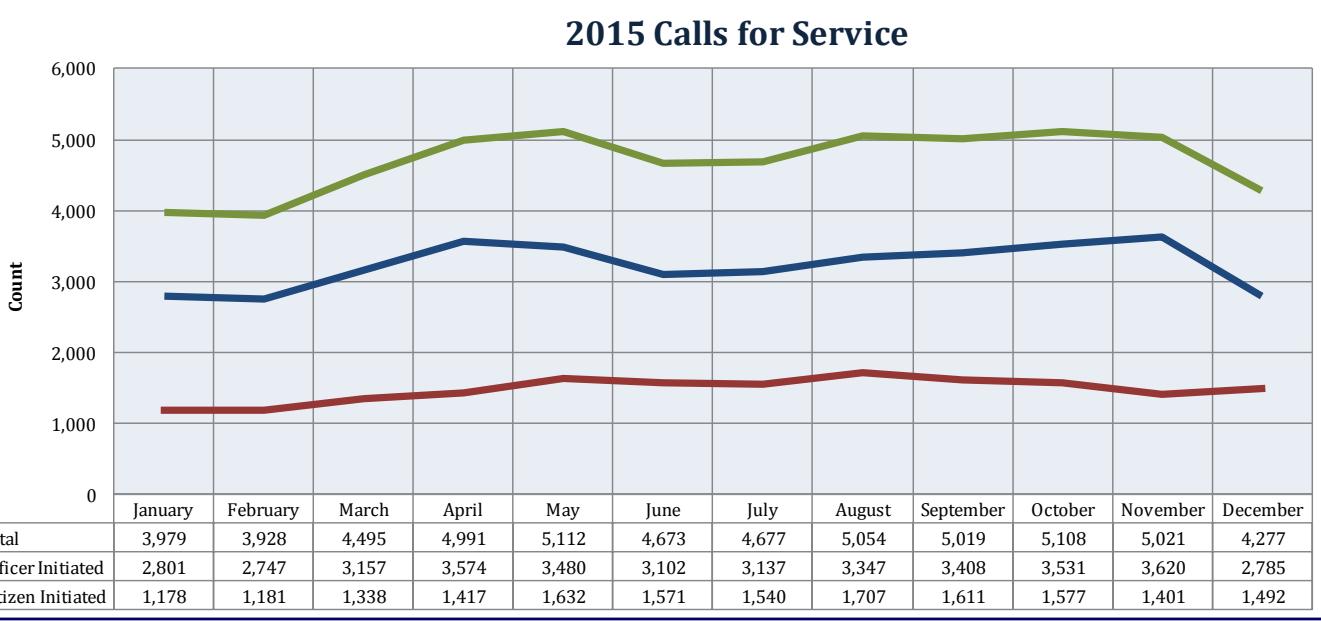

- ◆ The average number of calls for service per year for the five year period 57,445.
- ◆ The calls-for-service projection for 2015 is between 55,350 and 62,769 based on year totals since 2000.

Officer-initiated activity is essentially taking proactive steps to prevent or interrupt crime and disorder.

This is accomplished in a variety of ways:

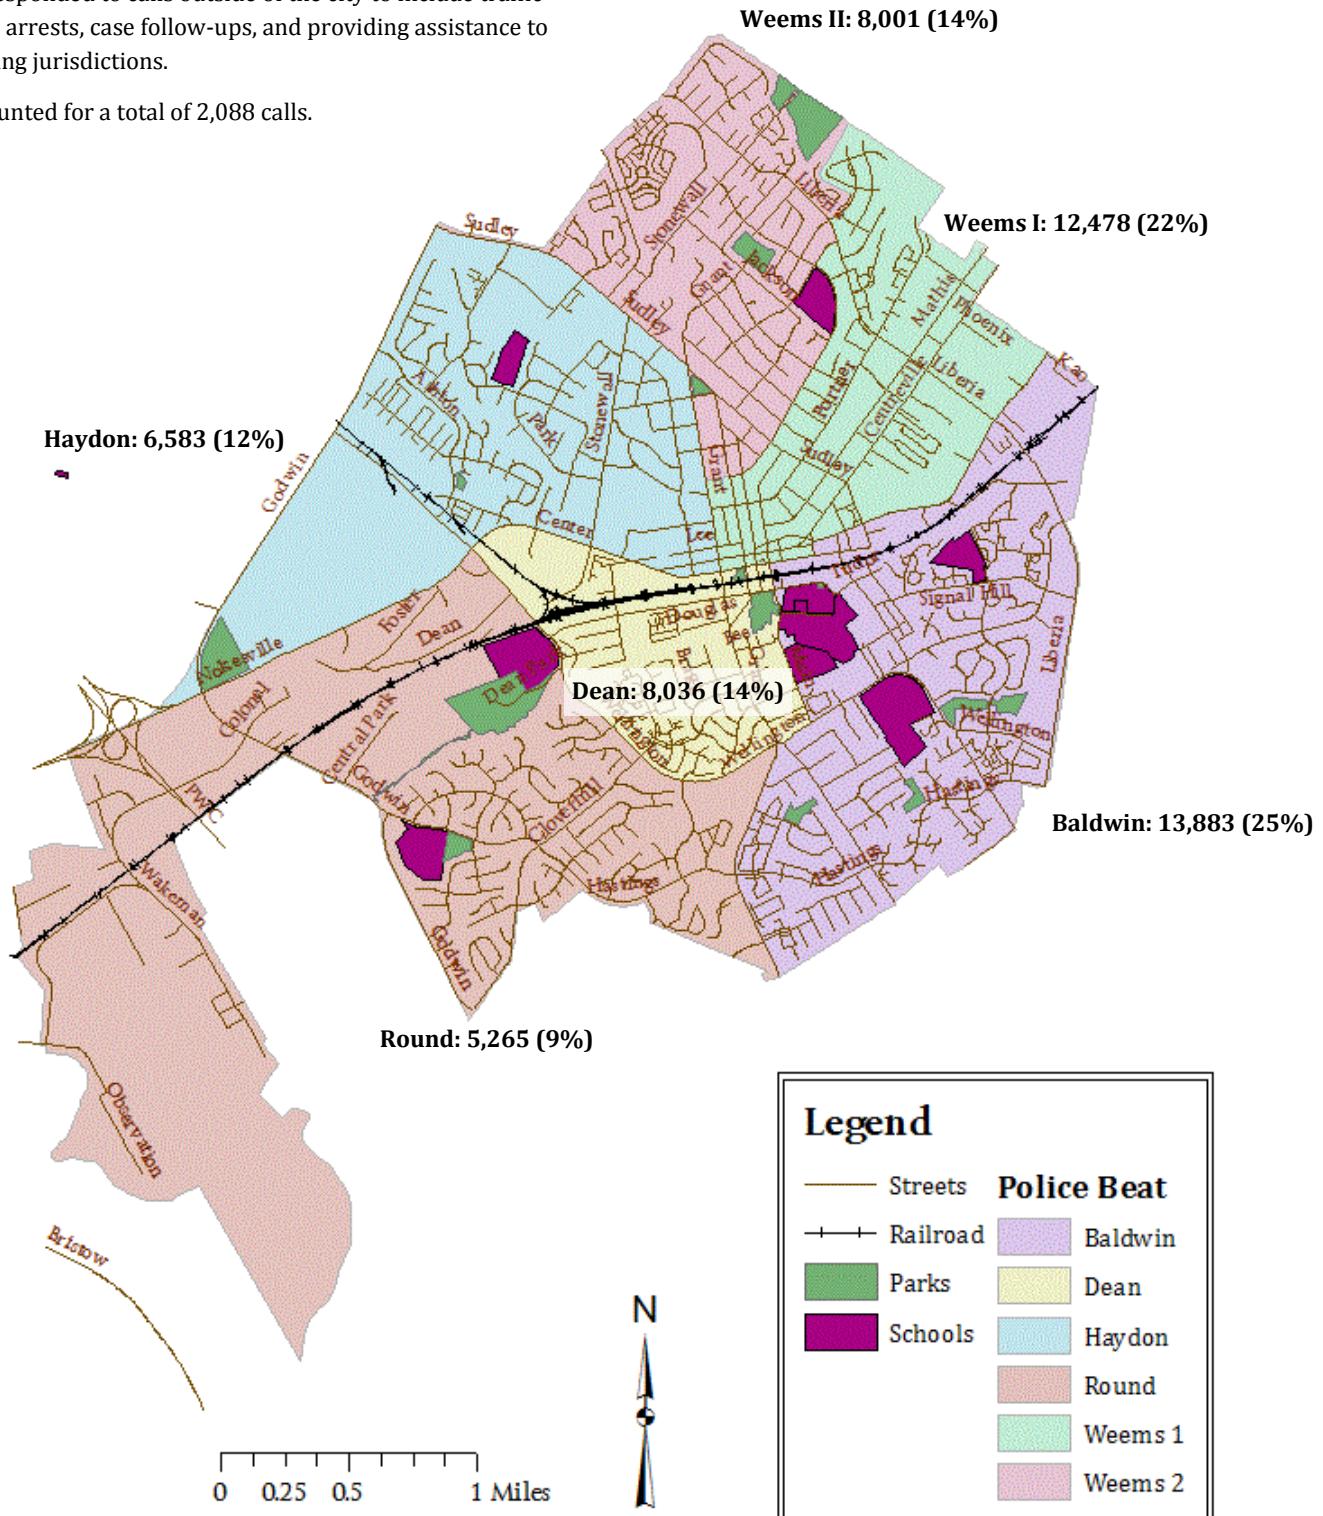

- ◆ Traffic stops
- ◆ Business checks
- ◆ Patrols throughout the community
- ◆ Engaging community members

Calls for Service: Distribution per Police Beat

In addition to the number of calls for service for each police beat, officers responded to calls outside of the city to include traffic stops and arrests, case follow-ups, and providing assistance to neighboring jurisdictions.

This accounted for a total of 2,088 calls.

*This map consists of data retrieved from CAD / calls for service data.

Response Times

There are two measures of response time reported here. The first is the average amount of time it takes an officer to arrive on scene once he or she has been dispatched. This is referred to as "Unit Reaction Time."

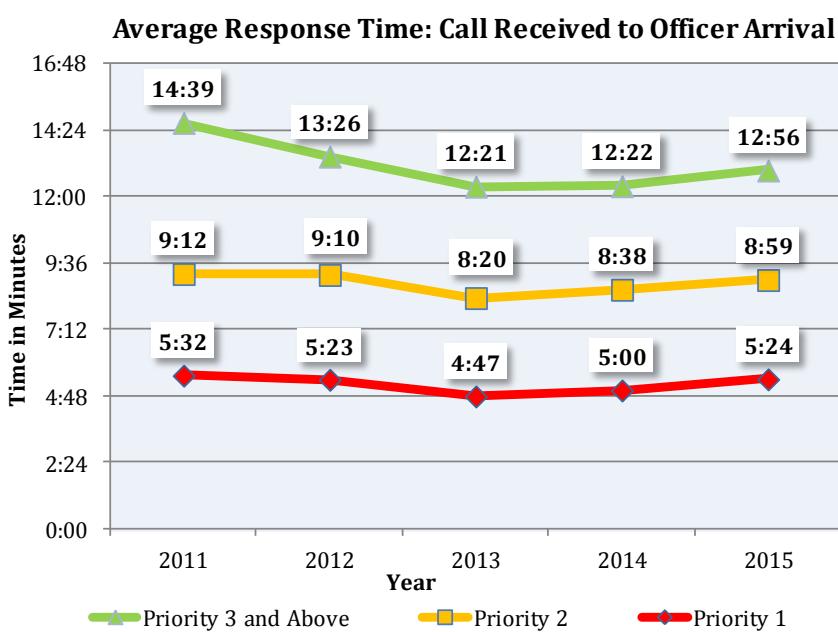

The second measure of response time is the amount of time it takes emergency communication specialists to execute the call, dispatch patrol officer(s) and for the patrol officer(s) to arrive on scene.

Response Times and Unit Reaction Times increased in 2015 compared to 2014, from 21 second to 34 seconds higher than the previous year's averages. The goal identified in the Strategic Plan is for an average Unit Reaction Time for Priority 1 / Emergency calls to be 3 minutes or less and this year the average was 3:40.

Patrol Officer Response Time

Combined Dispatcher + Patrol Officer Response time

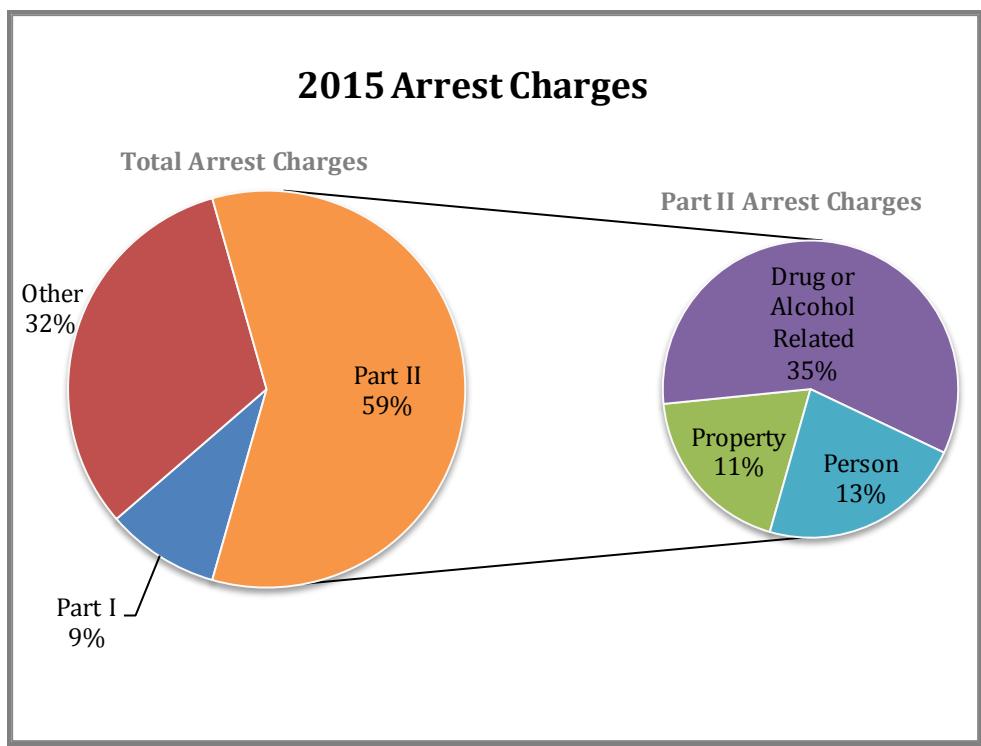

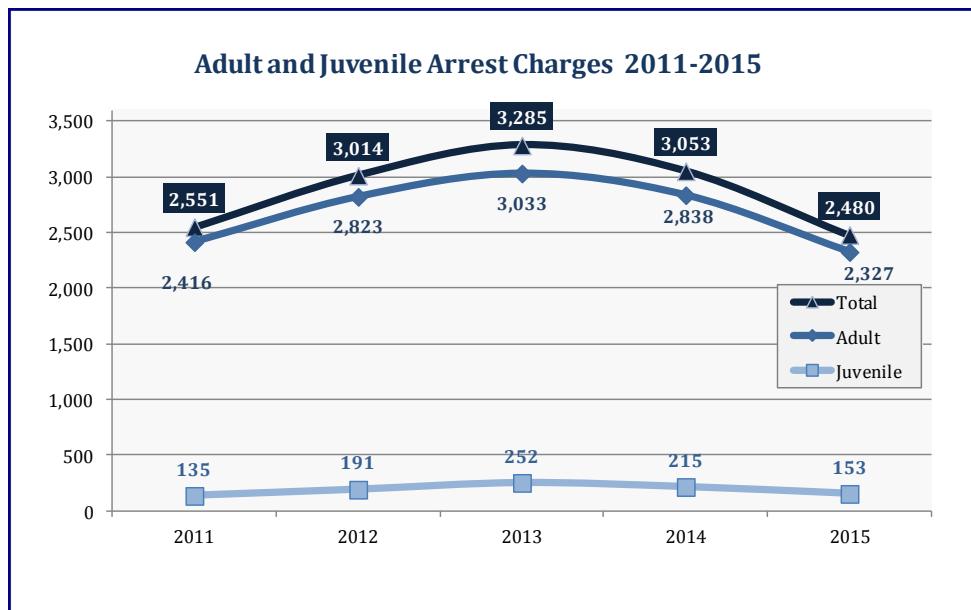

Arrest Charges

This year, 1,844 people were arrested for 2,480 charges.* Juvenile arrests decreased 14% over 2014 and adult arrests decreased 19%, indicating a decline to 2010 arrest totals after reaching a peak in 2013.

The most common charges for both juvenile arrestees and adults were for substance abuse, domestic assaults, or for warrants served from other agencies.

*Actual figures: 125 juveniles arrested for 153 charges; 1,719 adults arrested for 2,327 charges.

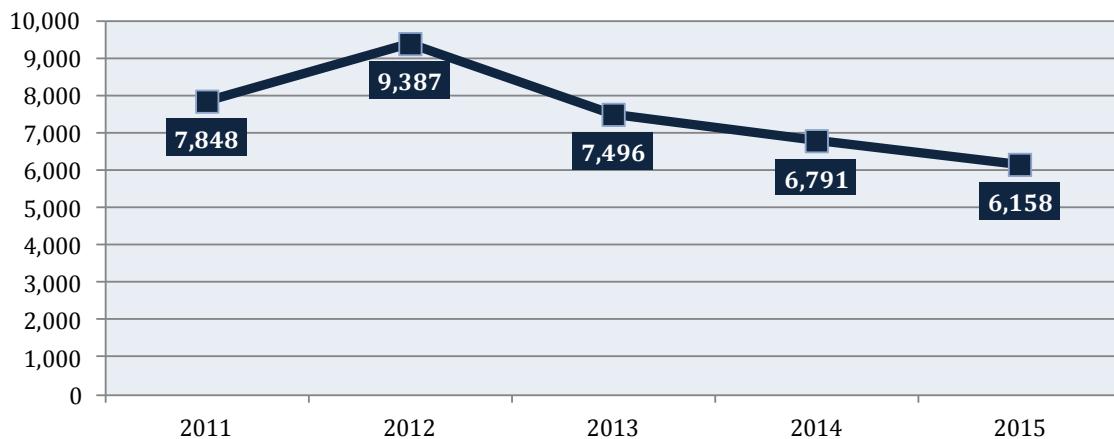

Traffic and Crash Analysis: Traffic Citations

As part of the greater Washington D.C. Metro region, traffic concerns are a top priority for Manassas residents, employees and commuters. The Traffic Services Unit augments the Patrol Services Division in conducting traffic enforcement and responding to reports of traffic crashes in an effort to ensure the City's roads are safe and passable.

In 2015, 9% fewer traffic citations were issued than in 2014, continuing a decline since 2012. Citations for reckless driving were the highest in 2015 than in the previous 4 years and the greatest decline in 2015 was in failure to obey a highway sign (19% reduction). The "other" category consists largely of non-moving violations such as expired registrations and safety inspections, and illegal tint on windows.

Traffic and Crash Analysis: Crash Days and Times

Traffic crashes reported here are those that incurred more than $1,500 in personal or property damages and for which the responding officer took a report. Here are a few facts about traffic crash trends in Manassas:

- ◆ There were 646 reportable crashes in 2015. However, officers responded to a total of 1,538 calls for service for crashes and hit-and-runs.
- ◆ There were 643 reported injuries, 83% of which were minor.
- ◆ Sunday is consistently the day with the least number of crashes. Peak crash times were consistent with rush hour traffic on weekdays, most notably on Friday 7-8am and Tuesday through Thursday evenings between 2-6pm.

Traffic and Crash Analysis: Crash Locations and Causes

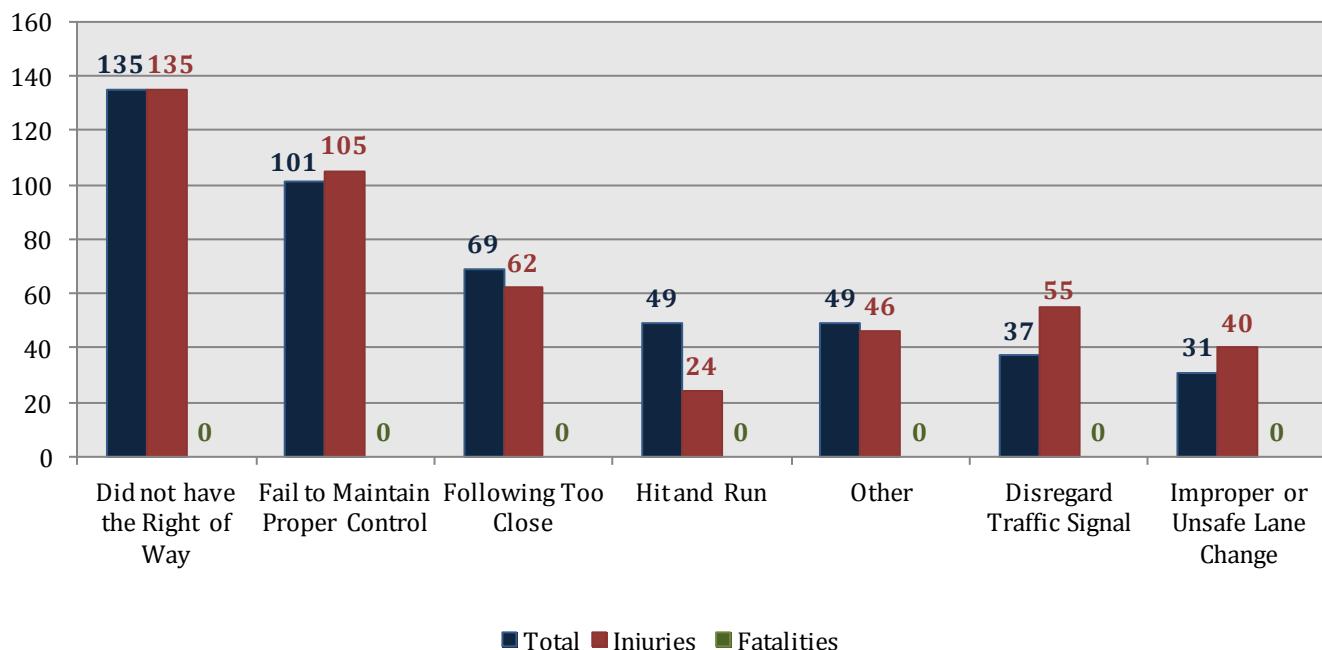

The Liberia Avenue corridor continued to be the stretch of roadway with the most traffic crashes at intersections in 2015. The top three intersections for the year for crashes and injuries were Liberia Avenue at Centreville Road and Signal Hill Road, and Mathis Avenue / Sudley Road.
