IN MEMORIAM – OFFICER CHRIS YUNG

Officer Chris Yung, 35, was a 1995 graduate of Hayfield Secondary School in Fairfax County, Va., and attended George Mason University in Fairfax, Va. Officer Yung joined the U.S. Marine Corps in December 1995, entering as a reservist.

Upon graduating from the Prince William County Criminal Justice Academy, Officer Yung was appointed a Police Officer on Jan. 5, 2006.

He was assigned to work Patrol on D Squad-East, a position he held from January 2006 to April 2011. He was assigned to the Traffic Unit (Motors) in April 2011 and served there until his line-of-duty death on Dec. 31, 2012.

During his career Officer Yung received numerous commendations and accolades for his good service, kind nature and helpful attitude. He was often recognized for his professionalism, initiative and dependability.

On Dec. 31, 2012, Officer Yung was tragically killed in a traffic crash at Route 28 and Piper Lane. As he had on so many other occasions, he was responding to assist individuals involved in a crash a few miles away.

Officer Yung is survived by his wife, Robin Yung, a former PWCPD officer, and their three children: Christopher ("Bate"), Clayton, and Paige Yung; his parents, Edward and Jennifer Yung; his brother and sister-in-law, Brian and Jaime Yung; and his brother and sister-in-law, Officer Dale Yung and Officer Nancy Yung, both with PWCPD.

Effective Jan. 31, 2013, Chris' unit number – Unit #4887 – was formally and permanently retired. Unit #4887 is now dedicated in memory of Officer Chris Yung.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF OF POLICE

To the citizens of Prince William County,

I am pleased to present the Annual Report for 2012, which is designed to provide an overview of your Police Department with respect to its mission, organization, and significant activities and achievements over the 2012 calendar year.

Our department and, indeed our community, were all dealt a great tragedy on the last day of 2012. Officer Chris Yung was killed in the line of duty as he was responding to a motor vehicle accident in Manassas. Chris, a Marine Corps veteran, had served with our Department as a police officer since 2006. He left behind a wife and three children, and he will be greatly missed. In the aftermath this Department, supported by the residents of Prince William County as well as our neighboring jurisdictions, banded together to support the Yung family and each other. This tragedy reminds us of the dangers that our officers face each and every day, but it was also a very heartwarming reminder of the overwhelming support of the people of Prince William County.

Speaking of service to our community, after 42 years with the Prince William County Police Department – including 24 years as the Chief of Police – Chief Charlie T. Deane retired on Sept. 1, 2012. I was privileged to have worked for Chief Deane as well as for the first Chief of Police, George T. Owens. Both of these men set high professional standards for our Department. Chief Owens founded this Police Department in 1970, and he is responsible for laying its solid foundation of principled service and commitment. Chief Deane continued in this tradition, earning international recognition for integrity and high standards. For these reasons and many more, your Police Department is renowned for its reputation of excellence.

Lieutenant Colonel Barry M. Barnard was named Acting Police Chief and during his five-month tenure he did an outstanding job leading the Department.

On Feb. 5, 2013, I was selected as the third Police Chief of the Prince William County Police Department. As a career-long member of this Department, I am extremely thankful and proud to have worked alongside the men and women of this Department for many years, and I greatly appreciate the selfless service that they provide to the residents of Prince William County.

You are always welcome to contact the Police Department's Public Information Office at (703) 792-7245, or my office at (703) 792-6650, for additional information concerning our programs and activities. On behalf of the Police Department I take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support.

Yours truly,

DEPARTMENT PROFILE

Prince William County was established in 1731 and is situated approximately 35 miles southwest of Washington, D.C. The County consists of 348 square miles and encompasses the independent cities of Manassas and Manassas Park, as well as the towns of Dumfries, Haymarket, Occoquan and Quantico.

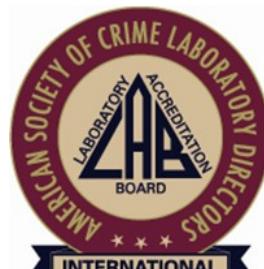

The Prince William County Police Department began operations on July 1, 1970. The Department started with 42 experienced police officers and operated out of the now-replaced Headquarters in the old Bennett School building in Manassas. The Department's budget that year was $750,000 and the County's population was approximately 111,000.

The County has experienced tremendous growth since that time. With an estimated population of approximately 413,396 (2nd Quarter, 2013), a variety of police services are required to accommodate the needs of our community. In FY 2012, the authorized strength of the Police Department was 569 officers and the operating budget was more than $76 million.

The Department is comprised of four divisions and a variety of bureaus and specialty units. It is also supported by a Forensics Services Section, a traffic safety team, a strong Neighborhood Watch program, a Law Enforcement Explorers Post, and a Criminal Justice Academy. In 2012, the Academy provided more than 102,548 hours of basic and in-service training to Department personnel.

Finally, in its commitment to law enforcement excellence, the Department has been fully accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc. (CALEA) since 1987. In 2012, the Department and the Academy were both re-accredited, and the Department earned CALEA's Excellence Award. In 2009, CALEA's coveted Tri-ARC award was bestowed upon the Department for achieving concurrent accreditation in law enforcement, training and public safety communications. In 2011, the Forensics Services Section earned its inaugural accreditation from the American Society of Crime Laboratory Directors/Laboratory Accreditation Board (ASCLD/LAB), making the Department only one of two in the nation to hold the CALEA Tri-ARC award in concert with the ASCLD/LAB international accreditation.

The Department continues to embrace a community policing philosophy and strives to remain a modern and innovative law enforcement agency, using current crime fighting methods and progressive police technology.

SIGNIFICANT ACHIEVEMENTS 2012

Community Initiatives

The Department sponsored a number of crime prevention and community initiatives in 2012.

- The Police Department was re-accredited by CALEA in 2012, a process that included an on-site assessment visit and comments from the public about Department operations. This was the 6th re-assessment for the Department, which earned initial accreditation in 1987.
- The Department and County residents observed the 29th annual National Night Out celebration by locking their doors, turning on outdoor lights and spending the evening of Aug. 7, 2012, outside with their neighbors as a symbol that they care about their neighborhoods. In 2012, the Department hosted 326 Neighborhood Watch programs in communities throughout Prince William County.
- Two prescription Drug Take-Back days, hosted by the Department and the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration, were held on April 28, and Sept. 29, 2012, at three locations: Prince William Hospital on Sudley Road in Manassas, Heathcote Health Center on Heathcote Boulevard in Haymarket, and at Sentara Lake Ridge on Minnieville Road in Woodbridge. More than 1,680 pounds of unwanted prescription drugs were turned in as a result of those two events.
- Celebrate Safe Communities, an event hosted by the Department during Crime Prevention Month in October, was held on Oct. 20, 2012, in the parking lot of the Target store on Sowder Village Square in Manassas.

- Prince William County Police joined law enforcement agencies throughout the metropolitan Washington region in observing Litter Enforcement Month April 1st through 30th. This campaign was part of an effort to raise awareness of litter, illegal dumping and related crimes, as well as reduce litter by strictly enforcing existing laws. For the second year, officers concentrated on litter laws, illegal dumping and unsecured truck load laws.

Support Services

The Support Services Division is responsible for such diverse areas as the Animal Control Bureau, Public Safety Communications, the Criminal Justice Academy, and the Records, Licensing and Forensic Services sections among other areas. Several important initiatives were offered in 2012 in this area.

- The Criminal Justice Academy also was re-accredited by CALEA in 2012, a process that included an on-site assessment visit and comments from the public about Academy operations. This was the first re-assessment for the Academy, which earned initial accreditation in 2009.
- The Department welcomed 73 new police officers during the three Police Basic Recruit Schools that graduated in 2012. The 30th Session graduated 26 new officers on Jan. 12, 2012, (although this class completed their training in 2011). The 31st Session graduated 29

CHIEF DEANE RETIRES AFTER 42 YEARS OF SERVICE

On Aug. 1, 2012, County Executive Melissa Peacor announced the retirement of Chief of Police Charlie T. Deane. Chief Deane was one of the longest standing police chiefs in the United States, serving as Chief of Police for more than 24 years. During that time, Deane has overseen numerous investigations, such as the now famous D.C. Sniper Case, the East Coast Rapist Case, and more recently, he oversaw the County's handling of the Illegal Immigration Enforcement issue that serves as a model of good policing. Deane was one of the original members of the Police Department when he transferred from the Virginia State Police to the newly formed Prince William County Police Department as a detective in 1970. His last day as Chief of Police for Prince William County was Sept. 1, 2012.

"This is a tough day for me personally and for the County. Chief Deane has served the citizens of this County with unparalleled integrity and commitment," said County Executive Peacor. "Chief Deane has been a stalwart of law enforcement in this community, this Commonwealth and this nation, bringing innovation and leadership to the business of policing. Charlie has served with many County Executives over the years, and I believe I can speak for all of us when I say that he has been both a friend and an advisor."

Since Chief Deane started with the Department, it has grown to more than 569 sworn and 182 civilian employees. The Department has gained a sterling reputation under the guidance of Chief Deane, whose own reputation has grown to a national level. Chuck Wexler, Executive Director of the prestigious Police Executive Research Forum (PERF), a well-respected law enforcement think-tank in Washington, D.C., said of Deane: "As the Vice President of our organization, Chief Deane has gained a solid national reputation as a fair, lawful and reasonable chief of police. His work on immigration has become a model for many other cities in the United States. Charlie is truly one of the great chiefs of police—a leader of excellent character, competence and caring."

"I have been honored to work with Chief Deane over the past nine years," said Corey Stewart, Chairman of the Board of County Supervisors. Chief Deane has provided outstanding service to the citizens of Prince William County and leadership to the Police Department and the entire organization. He has presided over a department known for its excellence and integrity, and although we are sad to see him go, he leaves us with a department made up of men and women who share his professionalism."

Chief Deane said of his retirement, "The Police Department has been much of my life for the past 42 years. I will miss the daily contact with the great women and men of the Police Department, fellow County employees and the members of the community who make this such a rewarding place to work. It is truly as interesting and exciting to police here today as it was when I started many years ago. The issues are different and in some ways more complex today, but our core mission and values remain the same, and, like back then, tremendous growth and change lies ahead. As I leave the department, I do so with confidence that the citizens of Prince William County are in good hands. The Police Department is staffed by well trained and equipped men and women of integrity who are committed to maintain order, control crime and promote the safety of the community."

FIRST DOG PARK OPENS AT ANIMAL SHELTER

On Oct. 27, 2012, the County's first dog park opened adjacent to the PWC Animal Shelter. The project was a community initiative that was funded almost entirely by donations. Construction was possible because of County resident Steven Rehard's Eagle Scout project, which brought in more than 80 volunteers under the direction of Shelter Manager Doug Norman. Rehard was an 8th grader at the time.

new officers on June 21, 2012, and the 32nd Session graduated 18 new officers on Dec. 20, 2012.

- The Prince William County Animal Shelter and the organization Let Us Consider Adopting Strays (LUCAS) now offer a "Seniors for Seniors" pet adoption program. This program is for senior citizens (age 60 and older) to adopt a senior dog or cat (age five or older) at no charge. The Shelter is the first in the area to offer the program free of charge; Fairfax, Loudoun and Stafford counties and the City of Manassas all have similar programs but they charge a reduced fee to senior citizens.
- "Fall 4 Fur," a 30-hour adopt-a-thon hosted by the Animal Shelter and the Prince William Humane Society, coincided with the opening of the dog park grand opening. Forty-six animals were adopted during the event Oct. 27-28, 2012, a figure that is more typical of a two-week period. The Humane Society sponsored low-cost adoptions and offered some free spay/neuters at different times during the event.
- In 2012, with a new part-time veterinarian on contract and an animal health and wellness program in place (which vaccinates and treats animals in the Shelter's care), no healthy, adoptable animal was euthanized. In addition, the Shelter's adoption rate rose by seven percent, the rate of animals transferred to rescue agencies rose by three percent.

Operations

The Operations Division is responsible for maintaining police officers in constant operational readiness for immediate response to any call for service requiring police presence. Nearly two-thirds of the Department's personnel are assigned to the Operations Division, which includes the Patrol Services Bureau, the Special Operations Bureau and the Crossing Guard Bureau.

- Fifteen police officers traveled to Charlotte-Mecklenburg, N.C., in early September at the request of the city government there to help provide police services during the Democratic National Convention Sept. 3-5. They were part

DEPUTY CHIEF BARNARD SERVES AS ACTING CHIEF

On Sept. 1, 2012, Chief Charlie T. Deane retired, completing more than 40 years of service with the Prince William County Police Department. Deputy Police Chief Lt. Col. Barry M. Barnard was named Acting Police Chief and led the Department until the Board of County Supervisors named Steve M. Hudson Chief of Police on Feb. 5, 2013, following a national search.

During his five-month tenure, Deputy Chief Barnard shepherded the Department and its members through the line-of-duty death of Officer Chris Yung on Dec. 31, 2012. Officer Yung was just the third Prince William County Police officer to die in the line of duty in the Department's 42-year history. The last line-of-duty death experienced by the Department was 22 years earlier: Officer Mike Pennington.

He was also at the helm when the Department earned re-accreditation from the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies, Inc.

"Our focus is going to be on continuing to come to work every day . . . maintaining the public trust and combating crime," Deputy Chief Barnard said in a newspaper interview at the time of his appointment as Acting Chief.

Chief Hudson, on the occasion of his swearing in, thanked Lieutenant Colonel Barnard. "He has done a fantastic job at guiding the Department and showed true leadership in the wake of Officer Chris Yung's death," Chief Hudson said.

Deputy Chief Barnard has been a member of the Prince William County Police Department since 1976, and has more than 35 years of law enforcement experience. He has been Deputy Chief of Police since 2009, and served as Assistant Chief of Police from 2000 to 2009 as a Commander of both the Operations and Administrative Divisions.

Deputy Chief Barnard is a graduate of George Mason University with a master's degree in Public Administration. In addition, he has a bachelor's degree in Criminology from Florida State University. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy; the University of Virginia Senior Executive Institute; the University of Richmond's Professional Executive Leadership School and the Police Executive Research Forum's Senior Management Institute.

Deputy Chief Barnard is a member of the Virginia Association of Chiefs of Police, the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy Alumni and the Police Executive Research Forum.

of a rapid-response team working the convention. While there, they were given special arrest powers.

- The Board of County Supervisors proclaimed May 2, 2012, as Crossing Guard Appreciation Day in Prince William County. This day honors the men and women who provide an invaluable service to our community. During the school year, student pedestrian safety is the primary mission for the nearly 90 adult School Crossing Guards. The program observed its 47th year in 2012.
- During the week of August 5-11, the Department participated for the first time in the national "Stop on Red" education and enforcement campaign. Police officers targeted red-light running and other unsafe driving practices. During this week, 120 citations were issued for red-light or stop-sign violations, coming in behind speeding (196 citations) as the single most observed violation. A total of 637 citations were written during the campaign.

Criminal Investigations

The Criminal Investigations Division is responsible for investigating major criminal offenses and manages the Department's juvenile education programs. Falling within the CID is the Special Investigations Bureau, the Violent Crimes Bureau, the Youth Services and Special Victims Bureau, and the Property Crimes Bureau. Major investigations successfully concluded in 2012 include:

Murder for Hire. A Woodbridge man wanted his adult stepson killed so he started making inquiries about it. When detectives learned about this in early May, they began an investigation that led to the man's arrest. During the investigation an off-duty Prince William County Adult Detention Center

(ADC) officer visited the man, who was his friend. The ADC officer and the suspect were recorded planning a false burglary charge on the victim, who would then be assaulted in the jail through an arrangement planned by the ADC officer. Detectives arrested the ADC officer and charged him in connection with the investigation.

Murder. Police were called to a home in the 1800 block of Old Triangle Road on July 17th. An anonymous male caller—who later turned out to be the suspect—said a woman living in the home had stabbed herself and was unconscious. The woman was transported to a local hospital where she was pronounced dead. Based on inconsistent evidence in the home, officers called detectives to respond. The man, who turned out to be related to the victim, was charged with First Degree Murder.

Burglary. A string of burglaries at homes along the Prince William Parkway began in January and increased through the spring and summer. Detectives immediately began investigating the break-ins and thefts but it wasn't until October, when a burglary-in-progress was reported in the Haymarket area, that police received information on a license plate of a suspicious vehicle seen in the area. Detectives learned that two sisters associated with the vehicle had pawned a large amount of jewelry pawned in Maryland and Virginia. Detectives obtained warrants for them and they were arrested in Loudoun County, Va. The continuing investigation has tied the women to multiple burglaries in Loudoun, Fauquier and Stafford counties.

Death Investigation and Child Endangerment. Police were called to a home in the 13200 block of Sapphire Ridge Place on March 7th for a report of a child's death. The investigation revealed that only two adult providers were present when the two-month-old child died from drowning. A total of 23 children, aged from newborn to four years old, were at the residence when police and detectives arrived to investigate the death. That number grew to 28 children when school let out. Six of the children, including the deceased, were less than 12 months old. Child Protective Services and Code Enforcement assisted in this investigation. Two women were each charged with five counts of Child Endangerment.

Larcenies (Cooking Oil). In early January the Department began receiving reports of someone stealing used cooking oil from storage tanks behind restaurants throughout the county. The restaurants sell the used cooking oil to two different bio-fuel companies. By October, total loss in revenue from the sale of the used cooking oil was more than $25,000. Detectives began surveillance. During one surveillance operation, detectives observed a van driving around and its occupants looking into the oil storage tanks. The van was stopped just prior to stealing cooking oil. The subject was driving a van that had been converted to facilitate the cooking-oil thefts. As a result of the investigation, search warrants were obtained and two additional vans were seized — each was converted in a similar fashion to the first one. The investigation revealed that the men would steal the used cooking oil and transfer it into a larger tanker truck that was parked in Fauquier County, Va. They would then sell the stolen oil to bio-fuel companies and pocket the proceeds. The tanker truck was seized with more than 2,500 gallons of used cooking oil inside. The illegal operation was based in New Jersey, and additional warrants have been obtained for two other individuals.

Felony Child Abuse and Neglect.

Detectives were called to a regional hospital in early March for a report of suspicious head trauma to a three-month-old child. Four days previously, the baby's parents had taken her to the pediatrician because she was pale gray and shivering, with symptoms of vomiting, diarrhea and fever. A medical exam showed indicators of what is commonly known as "shaken baby syndrome." The investigation revealed that an adult male related to the victim had physically abused her beginning at two months of age. He was arrested and charged with Felony Child Abuse and Neglect.

Armed Robbery (Home Invasion).

A man was in his basement at his computer on September 11th when two masked men broke into his home, stabbed him, and told him to lie on the floor or he would be shot. The suspects took his car keys and drove away in his car. The injured man couldn't say much about what happened due to his medical treatment, but he provided detectives with information on possible suspects. A canvas of the neighborhood revealed that one individual had been seen in the area about an hour prior to the incident. Detectives obtained warrants on this individual for two unrelated burglaries and the search for him began. On September 12th, information was received that the man was involved in the home invasion along with a second man. A lookout was broadcast and, later that evening a Quantico Town Police Officer located them getting off a bus and arrested them. One of the suspects was charged with two counts of Statutory Burglary, Robbery, Aggravated Malicious Wounding and Destruction of Property. The other suspect was charged with Statutory Burglary, Robbery and Aggravated Malicious Wounding.

CENTRAL DISTRICT STATION IS APPROVED

The Board of County Supervisors adopted the FY 2013 Budget on April 24, 2012, which included funds for a new police station. The Central District Station will be located on County-owned land between the McCoart Administration Building and Davis Ford Road. Occupancy is planned for 2016.

The new 50,000 square foot facility will include:

- Patrol Services, Criminal Investigations, Special Operations and the Office of the Chief.
- Roll Call, Report Writing and Training rooms.
- Interview rooms and areas to house specialty vehicles.

For the first time in the history of the Department, a new district was created to facilitate police services in the mid-County area – specifically Lake Ridge, Dale City, Independent Hill, Lake Jackson and the Davis Ford Road corridor; alleviate overcrowding at the Eastern District (Garfield) Station; provide more efficient service delivery in addressing calls for service, workload and staffing between the three District Stations; and increase visibility and maintain response times in the mid-County area.

To make the changeover more seamless, the Department began modifying its division of squads. The interim Central District Evening Squad structure became operational in July 2012, coinciding with the start of a new fiscal year. The following benefits were observed: unity of command, roll calls are more focused, members of the amended Eastern District and the new Central District have taken control and responsibility of their respective areas.

Alcohol-Related Traffic Fatalities Increase

Eleven of the 18 traffic-related fatalities that occurred in 2012 involved either a driver or a pedestrian that was impaired by alcohol and/or drugs.

Four of the fatalities were attributed to an impaired driver, while impairment of the pedestrian victim was a major factor in 7 of the fatal crashes.

Overall, alcohol was a contributing factor in 61% of the 2012 traffic fatalities. In order to improve roadway safety, the Police Department will continue to aggressively enforce alcohol laws and traffic violations.

AT A GLANCE

The crime rate in Prince William County, the ratio of the total number of index crimes per 1,000 residents, continues to fall.

Violent crime represents a small portion of the total crime, with 94% of all offenses being crimes against property.

The closure rate for violent crime (63.2%) is well above the 2011 national average of 47.7%. National figures for 2012 are not yet available.

Of note:

Violent Crime

Reports of Violent Crime in 2012 increased by 8.96% compared to reports made in 2011; however, 4.1% of this increase is attributed to the reports of rape incidents alleged to have occurred in years prior to 2012.

Property Crime

Reports of Property Crime in 2012 decreased by 2.03% compared to reports made in 2011.

INDEX CRIME

In 2012, reports of Part I (or "Index") Crime in Prince William County decreased 1.41%. As defined by the FBI, Index Crime includes: murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and motor vehicle theft. It should be noted that crime statistics must be viewed in context with environmental influences.

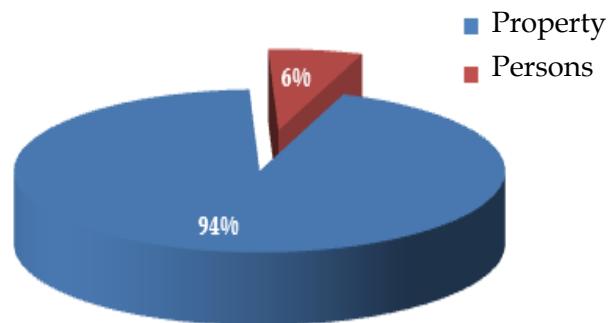

Factors such as changes in reporting rates, demographics, the economy, the law, and changes in police policies and resources can all have an influence on the number of reported crimes. It is also important to consider crime trends over multiple years.

Rape	46	67	21	+ 45.7%

PERSON VS. PROPERTY CRIME

Index Crime is further categorized into crimes against persons (murder, rape, aggravated assault, and robbery), and crimes against property (burglary, larceny, and motor vehicle theft).

Property crimes make up 94% of all reported Index Crimes in Prince William County. Violent crimes constitute only 6% of index crimes.

CRIME RATE

The crime rate in Prince William County continued to decline in 2012 at 17.04 crimes per 1,000 residents. The crime rate is intended to serve as a basic indicator of overall crime trends and is a commonly accepted community measure.

It should be noted the crime rate is based on the incidence of Part I (or "Index") Crimes only. Index Crimes include: murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, and motor vehicle theft. Furthermore, Uniform Crime Reporting standards dictate that only the most serious offense in a multiple-offense incident be counted.

Because the crime rate is based on certain reported crimes only, it is not a comprehensive tracking of all crime. For a broader perspective, the arrest data for a more extensive catalog of crimes is presented on pages 10-11.

15-Year Crime Rate per 1,000 Residents

CLOSURE RATES

An offense is cleared, or “closed,” in one of two ways: by arrest or by exceptional means. A case is cleared by arrest when all three of the following conditions are met for at least one person:

- ◆ Arrested
- ◆ Charged with the commission of the offense, and
- ◆ Turned over to the court for prosecution.

A case is cleared by exceptional means when there are elements beyond law enforcement’s control that prevent the agency from arresting and formally charging the offender.

It is important to note that the number of offenses cleared is different than the number of persons arrested. For example, the arrest of one person may clear several crimes, yet the arrest of many persons may clear only one offense. Also, some clearances that are recorded in a certain calendar year may pertain to offenses that occurred in prior years.

Historical Perspective

MURDERS

Murders are the highest profile of the violent crimes. Murder is defined as the willful (non-negligent) killing of one human being by another. The classification of this offense is based solely on police investigation as opposed to the determination of a court, medical examiner, coroner, or jury. This classification does not include deaths caused by negligence, suicide, or accident; justifiable homicides, and attempts to murder or assaults to murder, which are scored as aggravated assaults.

As illustrated in the chart below, the number of murders in Prince William County has varied significantly from year to year, and has not followed a predictable pattern. The analysis of individual cases also does not reveal any indicators that can be directly correlated to the number of murders, or their causes.

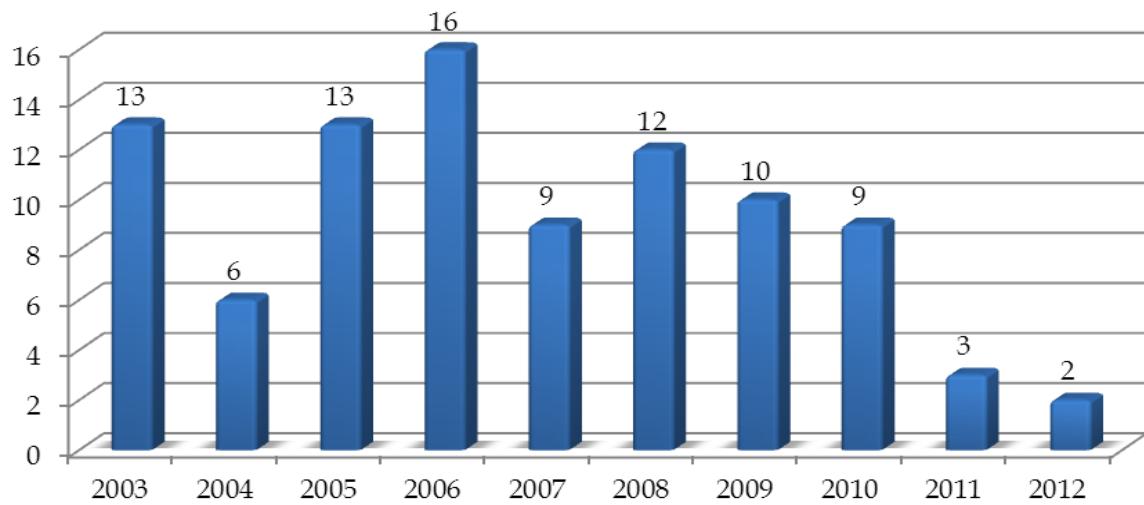

Of the 2 murders that occurred in Prince William County in 2012, neither was random in nature.

Four individuals were charged with murder in 2012; two of these arrests were in connection to the 2 murder events detailed here. The third arrest was of an individual connected to a homicide that occurred in 2011. The fourth murder charge was placed relative to a death classified by the UCR Program as Negligent Manslaughter (for further, see related footnote on the previous page of this report).

In 2012, there were 2 separate murder incidents that resulted in a total of 2 deaths.

- » In the first incident, the victim and the offender were acquaintances who became involved in a violent altercation.
- » The second incident was a domestic situation in which a man killed his wife.

Murders Committed
2003-2012

Historical Perspective

VIOLENT CRIMES

RAPE

The number of reported rapes in 2012 rose by 45.7% compared to the number reported in 2011. Twenty-seven (40%) of the reported rapes actually occurred in years prior to 2012. In every case, all of the victims were related to or acquainted with the offender. 56% (39) of the reported victims were juveniles.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT

There were 168 aggravated assaults in 2012, which resulted in 169 adult arrests and 9 juvenile arrests. 14% involved the display or use of a firearm; 33% involved a knife or other cutting instrument; another type of dangerous weapon was used during 29%; and in 25% of the incidents, a weapon was not used.

ROBBERY

There were 201 robberies in 2012, totaling a 16.2% increase from the previous year. A majority 76% were non-business or "street robberies," while 22% were robberies of a commercial entity. Five bank robberies occurred in 2012, one more than occurred in 2011. 51% of the robberies were committed with a firearm; 13% were committed with another type of weapon; 36% were strong arm robberies (no weapon).

Historical Perspective

PROPERTY CRIMES

BURGLARY

There was a 2.8% decrease in the number of reported burglaries in 2012. Of the total reported burglaries, 85% were residential, and 15% were commercial burglaries. In collaboration with Neighborhood Watch groups, other alert citizens, and professional crime analysts, patrol officers have been able to employ concerted efforts towards the prevention of burglaries.

LARCENY

The report of larcenies decreased slightly (1%), from 5,440 in 2011 to 5,367 in 2012. Larceny makes up 81% of the total crimes against property and includes offenses such as shoplifting, pocket-picking, theft from motor vehicles, theft of motor vehicle parts, and all other general thefts. Motor vehicle theft is not included and is counted separately because of the relative great volume of such thefts (see below).

MOTOR VEHICLE THEFT

The incidence of auto theft dropped 9.8% in 2012, representing a continuing downward trend. The widespread availability of sophisticated anti-theft technology has contributed to the reduced incidence of theft for newer model vehicles. As newer model vehicles are introduced and older vehicles are removed from the roadways, fewer vehicles are available to be stolen by conventional means.

ARRESTS – All Crimes

The UCR program counts one arrest for each separate occasion a person is cited, arrested, or summonsed for an offense. Because a person may be arrested multiple times during the year, the UCR arrest figures do not reflect the number of individual people who have been arrested. Rather, the data shows the number of times arrests have been made for a particular offense.

The table and chart below reflect the number of persons arrested for all crimes that are tracked by the UCR, separated by adults and juveniles.

Arrest Totals (All Crime Offenses)	2011	% of 2011 Total	2012	% of 2012 Total

ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION ENFORCEMENT

At the direction of the Board of County Supervisors, the Prince William County Police Department actively enforces a local immigration enforcement policy. All sworn officers and relevant civilian staff have received training on this policy.

As of July 2008, the policy mandates inquiry into the citizenship / immigration status of all persons taken into physical custodial arrest for a violation of state or local law. While remaining in accord with the law and sound policing practices, officers retain discretion to make an immigration status inquiry prior to physical custodial arrest.

The Police Department is committed to enforcing the policy in a fair, lawful and reasonable manner.

- We focus on illegal aliens who commit violations of state or local law.
- We protect crime victims and cooperative witnesses regardless of their immigration status.
- We do not tolerate racial profiling or bias based policing.

The final report of the three year interdisciplinary evaluation study of the illegal immigration policy was completed in November of 2010. The report is available to the public and is located on the Police Department web site, www.pwcgov.org/police. The authors of the report may be contacted at the University of Virginia Center for Survey Research, <http://surveys.virginia.edu>.

TRAFFIC ENFORCEMENT

In 2012, there were 93 less reportable crashes than in the previous year, reducing the overall crash rate by 2.3%. The crash rate is based on the total number of Vehicle Miles Traveled (VMT) as reported by the County Department of Transportation.

In 2012, 18 people were killed in 18 separate motor vehicle crashes in Prince William County. Eight pedestrians were killed in fatal collisions and five crashes involved a motorcycle. One fatal crash involved a large truck or commercial vehicle.

Speeding was the cause of only one fatal crash this year; this driver also had a blood alcohol concentration (BAC) at or above the legal limit of .08 percent. Three other fatal crashes were also attributed to an intoxicated driver.

Although impaired driving continues to be a significant cause of fatal crashes (22%), intoxication of the pedestrian was determined to be a significant factor in 7 of the 8 pedestrian fatalities (39% of all fatal crashes). In total, alcohol/drug impairment was determined to be a significant factor in 61% of the 18 fatal crashes this year.

In order to improve roadway safety, the Police Department will continue to aggressively enforce violations of traffic law.

HIGH-RISK ROADWAYS

Each year five intersections in each patrol district are selected for the Roadway Incident Management Program (RIMP). Targeted enforcement is employed at these intersections, which are determined based on the frequency of crashes during the previous year.

In 2012, targeted enforcement efforts increased by 26%, from 2,676 hours in 2011 to 3,379 hours in 2012. 1,223 traffic violations were issued in 2012, compared to 1,537 in 2011.

Overall, the total number of reportable crashes at the designated RIMP locations was reduced by a promising 26%. There were 160 reportable crashes, compared to the 215 that occurred at these intersections in 2011.

Most of the RIMP locations saw a reduction in the number of reportable crashes, with the exception of two intersections. Despite increased efforts, Prince William Parkway and Dumfries Road saw one more crash in 2012 (23) than in 2011 (22). The intersection at Dale Boulevard and Minnerville Road also had an increase in reportable crashes, with four more in 2012 (22) than in 2011 (18).

The same intersections are targeted for RIMP enforcement in 2013. The Department will continue to take proactive measures in order to improve the safety of these, and all other, county roadways.
